

ARBITRATION
MAKES GAIN

Declared Representative Foster of Vermont Today

UNITED STATES TO LEAD

Foster Said That Great Britain, France and Japan Are the Other Great Powers to Enter the Scheme.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—Representative D. J. Foster of Vermont, who is the ranking minority member of the House committee on foreign affairs, predicted today that arbitration treaties would be negotiated between four of the great powers of the world, with the United States to take the leading part in framing the negotiations.

Mr. Foster named the United States, Great Britain, France and Japan as the four powers which would enter in such agreements. Eventually, he said, other powers of the world will be forced to take a similar action.

GETTING READY FOR THE OPENING

Congress to Sit To-morrow in Extraordinary Session—Democratic House and Republican Senate.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The interesting situation of a Democratic House and a Republican Senate, meeting to consider the "Taft administrative measure," directs unusual attention to the convening of the sixty-second Congress in extraordinary session to-morrow. The political complexion of the two branches of Congress will be: House, Democrats 228; Republicans 160; Socialists 1; vacancies 2; Senate, Republicans 60; Democrats 41; vacancies 1.

In the House, the Democrats will show a gain of 54 members and new faces will be seen in the whole organization. Republican employees will go out in great numbers and their places will be filled by Democrats. The speaker's marble rostrum will not resound with vigorous whacks of the Cannon gavel, for Mr. Cannon will appear in the ranks of the minority.

POLICEMAN KILLED.

While Attempting to Make Arrest in Providence.

Providence, April 3.—John F. Brennan, 24 years old, a policeman on the Providence force for eight months, died at the Rhode Island hospital just before 5 Sunday morning of a bullet wound in the head. Bruno Bertucci, 23 years old, is under arrest.

The officer was shot late Saturday night while on duty as he placed his hand on the shoulder of one of the two young men who had been "shooting up" Franklin park, a small public enclosure on Atwell ave., the gateway to Federal hill.

The most extensive Italian colony in Rhode Island spreads throughout that portion of the city. Accompanying the fatal shot were the words in good English, but with an Italian accent, "You don't get me, see?"

SHOOT HIMSELF IN HEAD.

Aged Inmate of Haverhill, N. H., County Farm a Suicide.

Plymouth, N. H., April 3.—Sam Kennedy, 78 years old, a native of Westmoreland, but for two years a boarder at the county farm at Haverhill, committed suicide yesterday morning by shooting himself in the head. Illness incident to old age was the cause. He was a harness maker and well known throughout the county. His body will be turned over to the G. A. R. at Westworth. He leaves no family.

NO "CUT RATES" ON MEDICINE.

Supreme Court To-day Expressed Disapproval, Would Afford Monopoly.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—An attempt to put a ban on "cut rates" in proprietary medicines in this country, to-day received the unequalled disapproval of the supreme court of the United States. That tribunal declined, in the opinion of Justice Hughes, to give its aid to such an attempt on the ground that it would afford the manufacturers of medicine an unlawful monopoly.

County Game Warden F. W. Hayward is receiving daily reports of dogs chasing deer in the vicinity of Rutland. Within the past few days, he has found deer killed by dogs running them to death and eating the flesh.

A cow in Bennington gave birth to a calf possessing three eyes, three lower jaws and two upper ones. The head will be photographed and the picture submitted to a veterinary magazine. The monster is dead.

There were 20 deaths in Rutland during the month of March, and 62 cases of contagious diseases. Of the latter, 44 were mumps, ten chickenpox, two whooping cough, two diphtheria and four scarlet fever.

George Seely of Sutton was shoveling snow off a shed, the roof collapsed and he was caught. Help had to be called before he was liberated and he was badly hurt.

BARRED FROM CAPITOL.

Fire Breaks Out Afresh and Military Excludes Visitors.

Albany, N. Y., April 3.—Fire broke out afresh yesterday afternoon among some debris in the state capitol but was extinguished in about an hour. Hundreds of people were unable to gain admission owing to the strict rules given to the military guard to admit only those having business within the structure.

With half a million books and half as many manuscripts representing the accumulation of 93 years of purchases, gifts and state documents in the state library damaged or destroyed, it is estimated that it will require from $100,000 to $150,000 to reproduce a working library of the magnitude of the burned one. James I. Wyer, director of the state library, said today:

"I believe the state of New York will want to perpetrate the state library as one of the greatest libraries in the world. It was the third in size and importance in the United States. To do that a large appropriation must be forthcoming at the outset to put this library on a working basis when it goes to reproduce the state library building. If the staff of the library is to be kept intact, and the state library school eventually retained in Albany, this appropriation must come speedily, and the work of the rebuilding of the collection must be rushed with all despatch. For without books, neither librarians nor library students can work."

"The staff of the state library is made up of expert workers, librarians of reputation, who will not be content to await a long delay on the part of the state in rebuilding this great library. The New York state library under present conditions cannot hope to hold its staff intact if there is delay and indefiniteness in the effort put forth by the state to repair this loss to the library world. And it would indeed be another calamity to the state library if this efficient staff should be allowed to disintegrate if the organization which is now so complete and compact should be broken."

CHURCH DESTROYED,
WITH LOSS 25,000

Edifice 114 Years Old at New Braintree, Mass., Was Wiped Out by Fire Yesterday.

New Braintree, Mass., April 3.—The Congregational meeting house, which, for years, has been a landmark in this section of Worcester county, was destroyed late yesterday by a fire which started from an overloaded stove.

North Brookfield's five apparatus was hurried to the aid of the New Braintree townsfolk, who were without fire-fighting appliances, but its best help was to prevent a further spread of the flames. To place the actual loss on the historic building was not possible, according to several of the townspeople, but it was stated that it could not be replaced for less than $25,000.

The old meeting house was remodelled in 1840, and the vestry in the lower part of the building has since been used as a town hall. It was the only public building in the town except a small schoolhouse. When it burned, the town clock and an ancient bell dropped into the flames.

ALL OUT SAFELY.

Deaf Mute Institute in Northern New York Destroyed.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 3.—Fire yesterday afternoon practically destroyed the Northern New York Deaf Mute Institute, causing a loss, estimated at $133,000. The building was occupied by about 100 deaf and dumb children, when the flames were discovered the attendants and teachers placed them in order for the fire drill which they had been taught thoroughly. As a result they marched out of the building without confusion. None of them was injured.

In fighting the flames three firemen were injured though not seriously.

HATPIN STAB FAILS,
GIRL DROWNS SELF

Body Believed to Be That of Laura Kane, Waterville, Found in Pool at Portland.

Portland, Me., April 3.—After making an unsuccessful effort to end her life by stabbing herself in the neck with a hatpin, a young woman, about 30 years of age, thought to be Laura Kane of Waterville, finally succeeded in committing suicide yesterday by lying face down in a shallow pool of water back of the Deering Oaks. Her body was found by boys.

A picture postcard addressed to Miss Laura Kane at an Augusta hotel gave the only clue to her identity. At this hotel it was learned by the police that a young woman of that name, from Waterville was recently employed there.

GRANITEVILLE.

As I am about to leave town for the West, to accommodate some I have left a bill to collect for me. Please settle with him and oblige. W. A. Fraser.

Barre should have a plant to manufacture building granite and not let our neighbors obtain the new industry.

NOT GUILTY

By Albert Ulrich For Assault on Booker T. Washington

TRIAL DATE IS NOT SET

The Defendant Was Not Accompanied by Counsel and He Hurriedly Left After Entering His Plea in Court To-day.

New York, April 3.—A formal plea of not guilty was entered in the court of special sessions to-day by Albert Ulrich, the carpenter, who was arrested two weeks ago on the charge that he had assaulted Booker T. Washington, the negro educator. Ulrich was not accompanied by counsel. He hurriedly left the court after pleading and declined to say anything about the case. No date has been set for the trial.

NOT PROPERLY EQUIPPED.

Many Buildings in Burlington Without Fire Escapes.

Burlington, April 3.—Health Officer Charles F. Whitton, and Prof. J. W. Votey, state health department engineer, made a tour of inspection of buildings in the city Saturday with a view to determining their condition with respect to proper fire escapes. A large number of buildings in the city used for public and semi-public purposes are said to be without proper equipment in this line, and a report on these buildings will be made to the State board of health.

BURLINGTON'S STATION.

Grand Trunk and Rutland Railroad Officials Conferred—Result Not Public.

Burlington, April 3.—Developments are expected soon from the conference held here Friday of the Grand Trunk and Rutland railroad officials, when the matter of a new station for Burlington was discussed. Nothing is yet made public.

LAUGHS AT PROPOSAL

To Reverse Local Option Vote in Barre to Make City License.

To the Editor of the Barre Daily Times: Sir—In your paper, of late, articles have appeared which express the desire of some to sell booze within the city of Barre and to tickle the minds of those that are enjoying such anticipation, these articles state that two lawyers have been employed to change the 1911 laws to yes.

Notwithstanding the public statute provides that no license shall be granted, unless a majority of the voters within the city of Barre cast their votes in favor of license and how are we to know what the votes are upon this question unless we follow the requirements of law. The statute provides for the appointment of ballot clerks and prescribes their duties and one of these duties is to count the votes cast for and against the granting of licenses and their return to the city clerk is final. The ballots are then sealed and laid away for all time and there is no way to disturb the ballots or the return of the ballot clerks and the friends of license might as well now hang their hats on this pin as later.

The two lawyers, of which you mention, may be able to "fool all of the people some of the time and some of them all of the time," but they cannot fool all of them all of the time and before their friends part with their money, it would be well for them to place these lawyers in an egg tester and find out whether or not there is any fertility to be found in their brain. All those that have passed the required examinations for admission to the bar are not lawyers and I wonder why those two legal lights did not advise the city clerks of the petition mentioned in your paper of Saturday last, to the prohibition officer or to the overseer of the poor instead of to the assistant judges, for under the existing circumstances, the former has as much right to appoint license commissioners as the assistant judges have.

There will be no license in the city of Barre this year. "No."

179 DOG LICENSES

Were Bought in Barre at the Reduced Figures This Year.

The total number of dog licenses issued for the coming year from the city clerk's office reached 179 before the time limit expired last Saturday night. This number is some half-dozen short of last year's figures, although it doesn't necessarily follow that the canine population of Barre is on the decrease.

On the contrary, it is probable that there are still a large number of dogs running loose about the streets without any license to do so. Each year at this time, there is a certain element in the dog population that becomes migratory in habit, and by the first of April this kind is usually conspicuous by its absence.

Dog owners, however, are given until May 1 to obtain licenses for their pets, although the usual fee is doubled after the expiration of the allotted time. After May 1, all dogs not licensed are summarily dispatched by the proper authorities.

BACK THIS WEEK.

Bishop Rice Is Expected to Return From Europe Friday.

Burlington, April 3.—It is expected that Bishop J. J. Rice, who has been absent in Rome for some time, will return to the latter part of this week, possibly on Friday evening. A movement is on foot among the members of the Roman Catholic churches of the city to give the bishop a fitting welcome back to Burlington.

MANY DEATHS NEAR WATERBURY.

Mrs. Sherman Died Thursday, Samuel Shonko Friday, Mrs. O'Neil Saturday.

Waterbury, April 3.—The funeral of Edgar A. Davis was held at his home in Colbyville Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Jackson, pastor of the Advent church, officiated. Miss Ruth Jackson sang in a sympathetic manner two beautiful selections. W. J. Boyce was in charge and the burial was in the village cemetery. The flowers were very beautiful. The bearers were Orlando Davis, Merton E. Davis, Charles Grandfield and Walter Johnson. Among those from out of town were Merton Davis of Arundel, Canada; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Grandfield and daughter of Middlesex; Orlando Davis and George Davis of Montpelier; Mrs. James Johnson of Fayston; Mrs. Ellen Marble, Stephen and Merton Johnson of Duxbury; Verne Davis of Bradford, and Jehiah Martin of Warren.

Philip Shonko was called to Stowe Friday by the serious illness of his brother, Samuel, who died at half past nine that evening with pneumonia. Samuel Shonko was born in Duxbury, forty-five years ago, the son of Arnold and Phoebe (Hunt) Shonko. On December 24, 1861, he was married to Lois Ravelin, who survives him with three children. He also survived by a half sister, Mrs. Will Avery of Barre, and one sister and three brothers, Mrs. Edward McGrath of Union, N. Y., Porter and M. J. Shonko of Stowe and Philip Shonko of Duxbury. The funeral was held from his home Sunday afternoon, with burial in West Branch cemetery in Stowe. Among those who attended from here were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shonko, Fred Ravelin, James Coffins and John Weiss, and Mrs. Edward McGrath, who came from Union and is at the home of Philip Shonko.

Mrs. John O'Neil, Sr., died at her home on Scrabble hill in Duxbury Saturday of chronic valvular heart disease. Mary Shedy was born in Ireland 84 years ago and was twice married. A son, John O'Neil, Jr., died in 1907. She was in the old country. Sixty-one years ago Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil came to this country and for fifty-five years lived on the farm where she died. She has one sister living in Springfield, Mass. Mrs. O'Neil is survived by four children, Mrs. Richard Burke of Richmond, John O'Neil, Jr., of Duxbury, and Mrs. John Calligan of Richmond. The body was taken to Richmond this morning, where services were held and burial took place.

At the home of her son in South Duxbury, on Thursday, died Mrs. Hannah Sherman, aged 87 years, 8 months, 8 days, the cause of her death probably being cancer. She was born in Stratton, Vt., the daughter of William and Betsey (Edison) Cummings, and was the widow of Reuben Sherman. The funeral was held from the home of her son, Ezra Sherman, today with burial in the South Duxbury cemetery. Mrs. Sherman is survived by five children, Mrs. E. L. Woodard and Ezra Sherman of Duxbury, Mrs. Hannah Downey of Wata River, Charles Sherman and J. D. Sherman of Hardwick. There are 23 grandchildren, 34 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

SUSPICION THAT MAN TOOK POISON

Perry Wade, Hotel Employee in Bellows Falls, Was Found Dead in an Upper Room Yesterday.

Bellows Falls, April 3.—A sudden and mysterious death occurred at the Rockingham hotel at 1 o'clock Sunday morning. The night clerk thought he heard a heavy body fall to the floor of an upper story. Going up to investigate, he found that the body of Perry Wade, the driver of the hotel team, was resting on the floor of his room, life having evidently just departed.

Under the direction of Dr. E. S. Allbee, an autopsy was performed and the stomach will be sent to the state laboratory at Burlington for examination. No evidence of foul play was discovered by the physicians, and but little indication that death could have been due to cardiac trouble, as the heart was but slightly enlarged.

Some have a theory that the deceased took poison, as he had recently had an unfortunate love affair and was also greatly worried lest he should have to undergo an operation for appendicitis. Wade was a young man of excellent habits, bore a good reputation, and was generally liked, being faithful and cheerful. He was from Londonderry, and his father from that place is to take charge of the body.

115 Young Women Students at Northwestern College

CLASHED WITH THE DEAN

On April Fool's Day the Girls Hung the Silverware and Cooking Utensils High on the Walls of the Dining Room.

Chicago, April 3.—One hundred and fifteen young women students of Northwestern university have struck. They are residents of Willard hall and have clashed with Miss Mary R. Potter, dean of women at the university. The trouble is said to have originated from April Fool day's pranks. Some of the girls hung up the silverware and some of the cooking utensils on hooks about the walls of the dining room and the cooks refused to take them down.

FAVORED BY C. L. U.

Closing of Carriers' Windows at Post Office on Sundays.

At the regular meeting of the Central Labor union of Barre and vicinity, held last Friday evening, the question of Sunday closing of the carriers' windows at the post office was discussed and favored by the union. A committee was appointed, comprised of James Cruikshank, Alfred Henry and H. J. Houghton, to confer with the letter carriers and find out what their situation is and what they want. When this committee reports to the C. L. U., all further action of the union is left in the hands of the executive committee. It is understood that the C. L. U. is unanimously in favor of the post office carriers' windows being closed on Sundays and will do all it can to bring it about.

At two of the churches in the city yesterday the pastors spoke in favor of the movement and urged their parishioners to use their influence towards bringing it about. The two churches were the Congregational and St. Monica's. It is understood that all of the pastors in the city are heartily in favor of the idea and are doing all they can to bring out the public opinion on the question.

Mr. McKenna's sermon was on general Sunday observance. He expressed the opinion that of the large number of people who line up at the post office windows every Sunday morning, only one in twenty, perhaps, receive mail at that time. And of every fifty who do receive mail, he suggests that only one of these would find it imperative to digest the contents of the letter being the following Monday. It was divinely appointed that the seventh day should be one of rest, and the pastor said that mail carriers should prove no exception in the application of this rule.

WOMEN THROWN OUT

During Brief but Exciting Runaway on Main Street.

While driving up Main street Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Ida D. Whitney and Mrs. Robinson of Whitmanstown had a trying experience, in which the latter narrowly escaped serious injuries. Near the Reynolds store, the driver started to turn the team, when the sleigh became fixed in a crack in the scales. The two women were thrown out of the sleigh, and the horse, heading freely, started out on a brisk gallop toward the City hall, only to make a tame finish near the park, when a bystander shouted a halting word.

Meanwhile the occupants were assisted to their feet, and Mrs. Robinson discovered that she had suffered a badly wrenched shoulder in the mix-up. Aside from this, neither of the women were injured. The sleigh bore several signs of rough usage, although nothing was damaged beyond repair.

THE WEATHER RECORD.

Most "Zero Nights" for More Than a Score of Years.

According to the records of a local weather observer, there have been more "zero nights" this winter than for any winter in 22 years, the total number of such nights up to the present being 65, distributed as follows: December 14, January 13, February 14, March 12, April 2.

The next winter in comparison during the 22 years was that of 1905-06, during which there were 53 "zero nights." The coldest temperature in the 22 years was 34 below; this winter the coldest was 20 below. The above figures were from thermometers which register the coldest point reached in each night.

TALK OF THE TOWN.

Over 4,500 of our Elephant brand oranges went out of the store Saturday into the homes of numerous satisfied customers. We have thus eclipsed the record of the previous Saturday and it is probable that a larger day's sale of oranges never took place in the city. The chocolates went like free meal-tickets and early in the evening we found that 100 pounds of this famous confection would not suffice to supply the steady stream of people going in and out of the store. We promise to have an even larger supply next time, so watch carefully for our announcement. The New England Fruit store.

COMPLAINS BITTERLY.

An Oklahoma Granite Manufacturer in Western Town.

A copy of a paper published in Granite, Okla., tells of serious labor troubles which are affecting trade in that vicinity. The same sheet also contains a contribution from one of the leading manufacturers of that city, who explains why operations are at a standstill and is inclined to place the blame with the labor leaders. He claims that large building contracts in the new state are being filled by Barre granite manufacturers, whereas the state of Oklahoma, according to his statement, has deposits of granite a thousand times larger than those of Vermont.

The writer also presumes to say that the quality of the stone is much superior to that of this region. He notes that the granite for the new state capitol as well as the Endicott court house are to be erected of Barre granite simply because the manufacturers in that vicinity are unable to turn out the work promptly. Naturally enough he blames the quarryworkers for the condition of affairs and says that they are unreasonable in their petitions for increased wages. He figures that quarry workers and others of the stone trade in the Oklahoma granite belt are already getting more than is justifiable. A comparison of the figures with the new hills signed by local stone workers was made at the Quarryworker's office this morning, and it was found that the Oklahoma manufacturer had made several serious errors in his deductions.

BENNETT-PARKER.

Soldier Married to Barre Girl on March 28.

The news has only recently leaked out of the wedding of Miss Angie May Parker of this city to Sergeant Percy Edwin Bennett of Fort Hancock, N. J. The ceremony took place Tuesday, March 28, Rev. E. O. Thayer, pastor of the Third Methodist church officiating. Mrs. Bennett has been employed at the Pearl street Rathskeller for some time, and it was here that the young soldier first met his future wife. Sergeant Bennett is stationed at Fort Hancock, and several weeks ago came home on a furlough. Mrs. Bennett will continue her duties at the Rathskeller for a time, while her husband will finish out his term of enlistment at the New Jersey fort. Their plans thereafter have not been completed.

Her husband, Sherman Caswell, was convicted and served ten or twelve years in state's prison, for shooting and killing George Gould, who was then the husband of the late Mrs. Caswell. This murder took place September 5, 1889, at the farm where she died and where she was born. The trial of this case it was brought out that the woman had been house keeper for Caswell and went away and married Gould. On their return, while passing the house, Caswell shot Gould in the head, firing from a window in the house. He was convicted of murder in the second degree. On the stand the then Mrs. Gould, testified in Caswell's favor and before the trial was over, she married Caswell. After her hearing out his sentence, she did not live together.
